PROJECTS

API Integration– A Responsive web page using API May 2025
Java Script , API keys, Nodejs

This project is a dynamic and responsive web application that integrates with a public weather API to fetch and display real-time weather data based on user input.

It demonstrates how to build a full-stack web solution using Node.js, Express.js, and OpenWeatherMap API, with a lightweight HTML/CSS/JavaScript frontend.

The goal of this project is to show how you can consume external APIs and display data dynamically on a webpage while ensuring security and responsiveness.

Chat Application– A Real-time chat application using websocket June 2025
Java Script, websockets , React

This project is a real-time web-based chat application built using Node.js, Express, and Socket.IO.

It allows multiple users to join a shared chat room, send messages to each other in real time, and view a list of currently online users.

The application runs on a simple and intuitive web interface, making it easy for users to communicate seamlessly.

INTERNSHIP
